

Greetings from Tyler,

We've had a productive week here at our Tyler offices. The new TCW newsletter has been mailed, and should reach you within days. Many here locally have already received theirs. The next monthly letter for September has also been written, printed, and is in the mailing process. It deals primarily with the meaning of the Feast of Trumpets and the Day of Atonement, why we observe them; their importance in God's plan for mankind, and the significance of turning our attention to all that they convey once a year.

It's hard to believe that it's already that time again, and the Fall Holy Day season is just around the corner.

There are many earth-shaking, life altering events in the making on the international scene as well as here at home. Either war between Iran and Israel will break out before Iran finishes its nuclear quest, or the world will cower under the threat of nuclear terrorism.

Critical aspects of the American way of life hang in the balance. While we await the outcome of what many perceive as an Orwellian nightmare of government intrusion into every aspect of life, it is apparent that major components of a plan to utterly transform the way things work in the U.S. are rapidly being implemented.

More devastating economic events await. Economic experts tell us that yet another massive wave of real estate foreclosures will hit in 2010 when another huge batch of sub-prime loans come due for interest rate adjustment on properties that are worth less than the amount owed.

The international standing of the U.S. dollar is increasingly in doubt. And the domestic value of the dollar is increasingly in doubt as we see our national government spend the next three or four generations into crushing debt on the basis of salvaging the current economic status quo, and funding social engineering projects we can scarcely comprehend.

The Garner Ted Armstrong telecast this week brought 335 requests for the Answer to Unanswered Prayer with 164 first time contacts. Thank you, from all of us at HQ, and have a great Sabbath.
